Thanks for Joining us today.

Our virtual Pack meeting is brought to you by the Michigan Crossroads Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Lets get started.

Could I get a Scout to lead us in the Pledge of Allegiance?

(Scouts Name) Thanks

Scout Salute

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Now that was cool!

Lets talk a little about Coins

There are specific parts to the make up of a coin There is the outer surface, which can have lettering, reeding, or designs on it,
This is called the edge.
Near the edge is the raised area called the rim.
Both sides of most coins feature designs and artwork, often including an image of a person Which is known as a bust.

The blank area of background on a coin is called the field.

The term relief refers to the depth of the markings on the coin and how much they are raised above the field.

Small letters show where the coin was minted, known as the mint mark, and the initials of the sculptor or artist who designed and/or sculpted the coin.

Other writing on a coin includes the date and the inscription.

Lets see if we can identify some of these

Using the Annotate feature found under video setting at the top of your screen

Use the highlighter and circle where you think each of these are

Great job Scouts

Now we know a little more about coins!

Lets talk a little about Where are coins made

Each of these location are called a facility

Starting on the West Coast

The first Facility is the San Francisco Mint Facility

This facility makes commemorative coins, proof coins, and coin dies.

Moving East

The second facility is the Denver Mint Facility

At Denver they make circulating and commemorative coins, uncirculated coin sets,

coin dies,

and stores gold and silver.

The Denver Mint also offers public tours.

Next, is the Fort Knox Bullion Depository

First opened to store gold, the U.S. Bullion Depository makes no coins.

Next is the Washington, DC Headquarters

The headquarters of the Mint is in Washington, DC.
Though this facility does not make coins, it is responsible for coin laws, research,
marketing,
and other important business related to the Mint's operations.

Next is Philadelphia Mint Facility
This was the home of the first U.S. Mint Its original building was the first federal building under the Constitution!
This facility makes circulating and commemorative coins,
uncirculated coin sets,
medals,
and coin and medal dies.
They also offers public tours.

And lastly is West Point Mint Facility
This facility makes commemorative coins, American Eagle proof and uncirculated bullion coins in gold, silver, and platinum.

Now that we know a little more about coins and where they are made.
Lets watch a short clip on How Coins Are Made....check it out

The Mint makes many coins and medals, but they are not all worth the same.

Lets talk about the coins that we make the most and details about their value, composition, weight, diameter, and thickness.

Penny

Valued at one cent

Made of Copper Plated Zinc

Weighs 2.5 grams

.75 inch's in diameter

And holds a thickness of 1.52 millimeters

Nickel

Valued at five cents

Made of Nickel

Weighs 5 grams

.835 inch's in diameter

And holds a thickness of 1.95 millimeters

Dime

Valued at ten cents

Also made of Nickel

Weighs 2.268 grams
.705 inch's in diameter
And holds a thickness of 1.35 millimeters

Lastly the Quarter
Valued at twenty-five cents
Also made of Nickel
Weighs 5.67 grams
.955 inch's in diameter
And holds a thickness of 1.75 millimeters

Every coin in your pocket was made in the United States by one of the Mint's facilities.

Lets have a little fun!

Can you find all the words? Hint: some may be diagonal or backwards!

Use the highlighter and lets see how many of these words we can find in the word search.

(Let Scouts do the word search)

Great work Scouts

Want to hear a joke?

Slide 15

1:31 minutes

HA HA

That was funny!

Are you guys ready for our next activity?

Parents, its about that time that we are going to need to make sure we have our

Duct-Tape

Ruler

And Scissors

If you haven't found them please do so now.

Scout, pay close attention

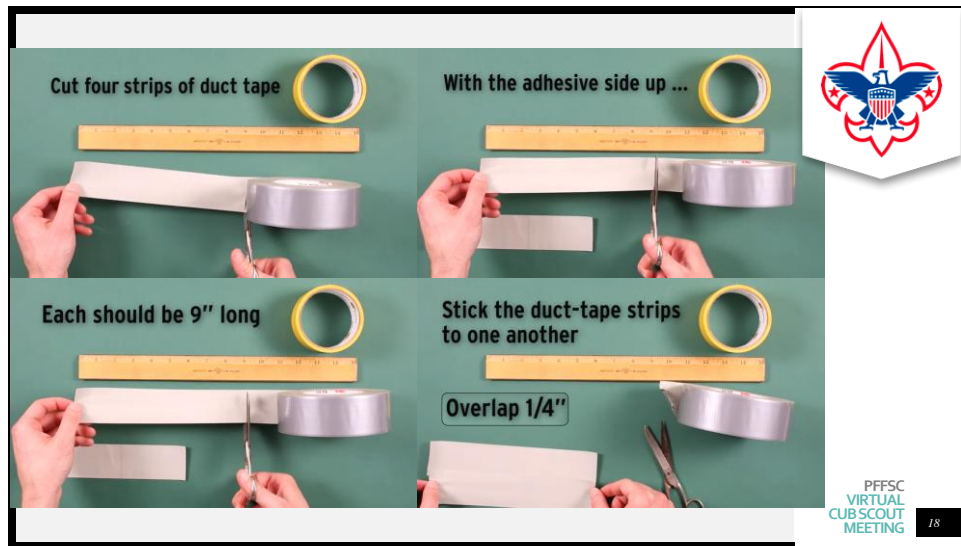

We are going to share a short clip

On how to make a Duct-Tape Wallet....check it out

Slide 17

1:31 minutes

Everyone have their materials?

If so, we can get started

(Depending on the group, either wait a couple minutes for Parents to collect items or proceed with the project)

First

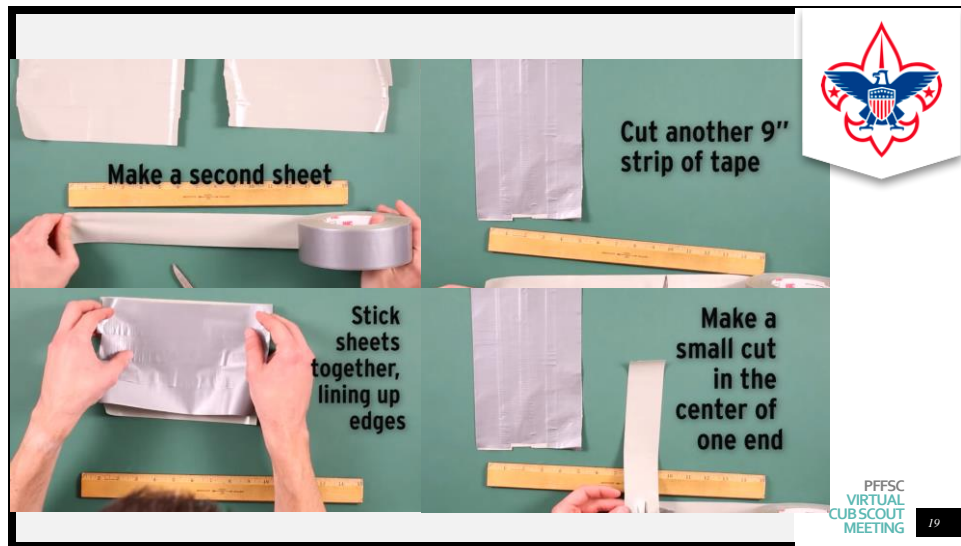

We are going to cut four strips of duct-tape

(Click) With each being 9 inches long

(Click) Make sure the sticky side is up

(Click) Stick the strips to one another

Making sure they overlap about a quarter of an inch (Click)

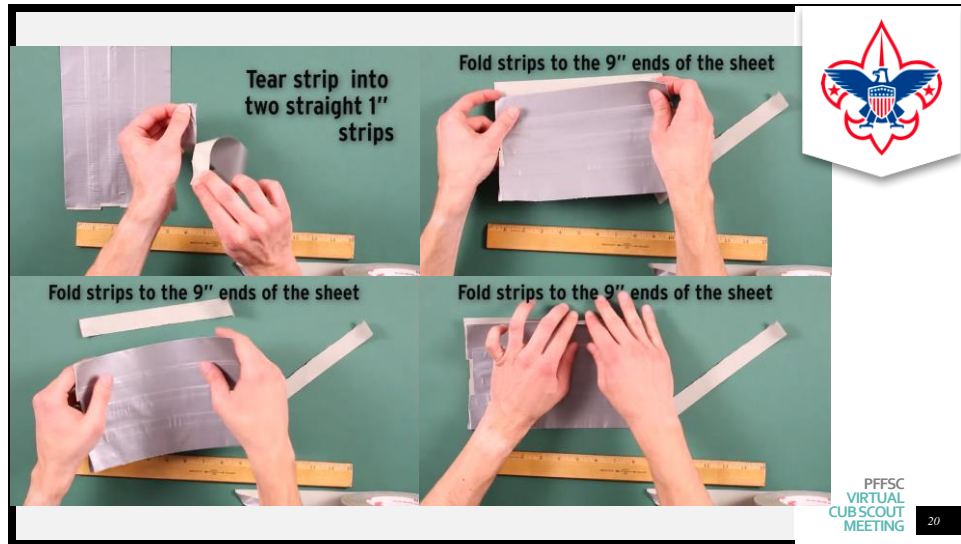

Next

Make another sheet
Of four strips
Nine inches long
(Click)

Stick the two sheets together
(Click)

Cut another nine inch strip of tape
(Click)

With the nine in strip Cut a small slit in the center of one of the ends
(Click)

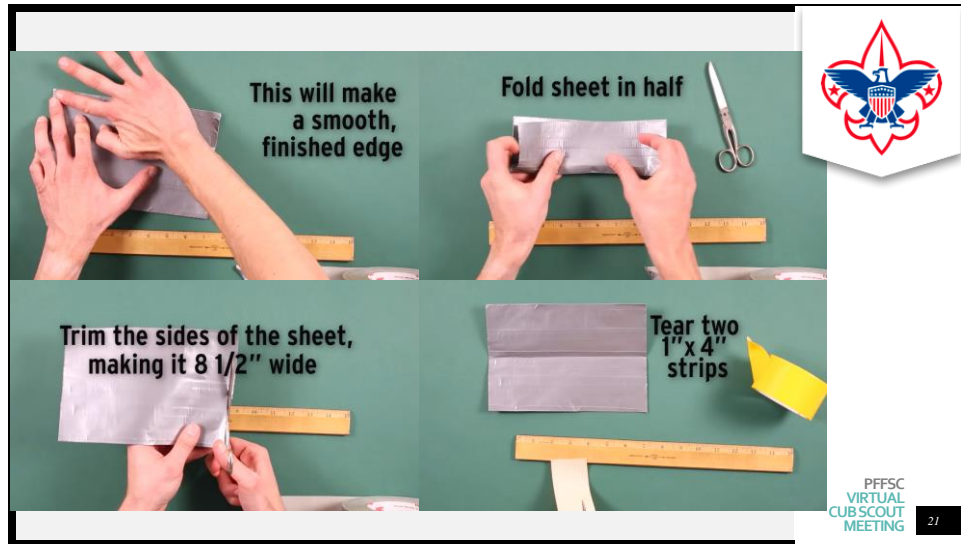

Next

Tear the nine inch strip Right down the center
Using the small cut you made to help Separate the duct-tape into two pieces
(Click)

Now we are going to take our Two strips and place them on The long edge of each piece

Making a clean edge on each side of our sheet Of duct-tape
(Click)

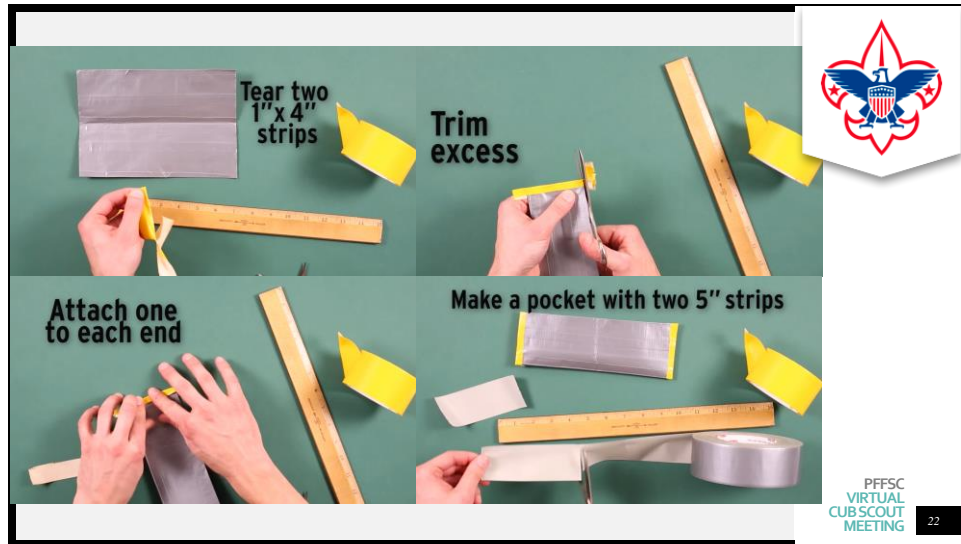

Now that we have a smooth edge
(Click)

Trim each side of your sheet Making sure it ends up being Eight and a half inches long
(Click)

Now fold your sheet in half (Click)

Next
Cut another piece of tape
Four inches in length And like we did before We are going to cut a small slit
In the middle of this
(Click)

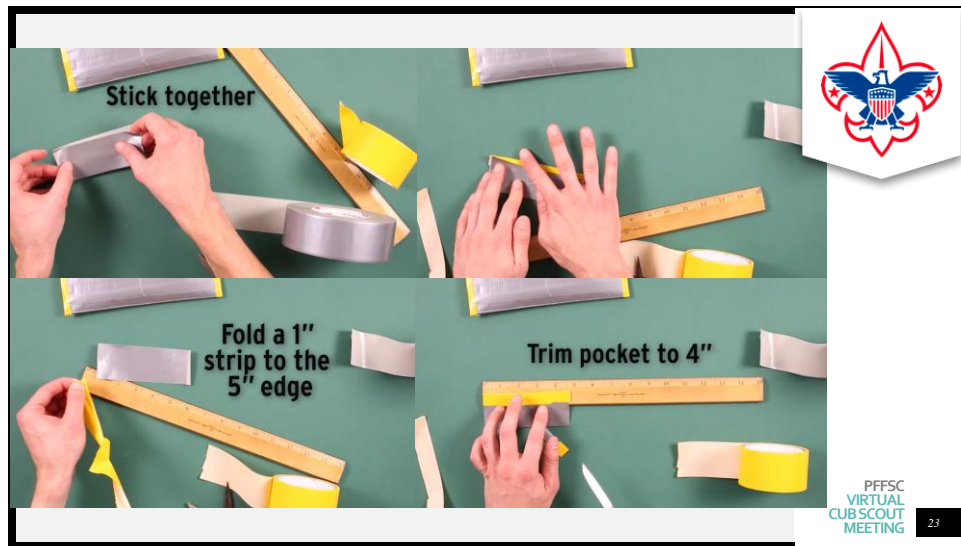

Now tear that four inch piece in half
(Click)

On your folded sheet
Apply a strip to each end
Now we have the main piece for keeping our bills
(Click)

Trim off the excess on all four corners
(Click)

Next we are going to make a pocket Cut two strips at five inches long

Stick the two five inch pieces together
(Click)

Next cut another five inch strip
And lets make another protective edge for our pocket
(Click)

Apply the strip to each long edge of the five inch pocket we made
(Click)

Now, using the ruler lets trim our finished pocket down to approximately four inches

Once you have your pocket trimmed
(Click)

We can cut another five inch strip
And similar to before Cut a slit in the center of the five inch strip
(Click)

Tear the strip in half
(Click)

And apply it to our pocket Holding our pocket in place on either end of your wallet

Repeat this step for the other side
(Click)

And let now trim off the excess tape
(Click)

Next
Cut another four inch strip
And apply it to the bottom of your pocket
(Click)

Fold the piece over onto the other side and trim off the excess tape

This completes the pocket and allows us to put cards or other items in it without anything falling through

Congratulations

And Boys' Life Magazine

Now for a little fun!

We will take ten minutes soon and Scouts, when we say go, (Click)

You will have ten minutes to scavenge your house for as many coins as you can find.

When you come back we will talk a little about what you found
And see how many State Quarters we found as a group

Scouts if you can ask your parents to join us on screen if they are not here We have a quick message for your parents while you do this short activity.

So Scouts take a second and ask you parents to come to the screen.

(Wait for parents to arrive)

Parents thanks for joining us!

Scouts...(Click)...Ready...(Click)...Set...(Click)...Go!....(Click)

Parents thanks for joining us!

We wanted to take a quick minute and talk through a few items.
And we also have a quick message about the council and their efforts to support us.

Here is an example of the 30 day Challenge.

Its basically a calendar Built for each rank or grade

Each day has a small task that you can do with your child that keeps them active and learning

There are additional links to requirements on the Scout on page that each of our scouts can work on at home.

The important thing is to keep your Scout active and learning while they are away from school!

Time is up.

Parent's please ask your Scouts to come back to the conversation.

So, Scouts (Click)

Please tell us how many items you were able to find.

(Discuss the items they found a little)

Great job, we found (#) of states. That's so cool!

Lets watch a short clip on how to take these items and fitting them all in our packs for when we go on our next adventure.

Check it out...

Cubmaster Minute: Pockets

Many people of all ages have discovered the fun of collecting things.

Whether you collect rocks or stamps or model cars, it's exciting to be on the watch for a new item to add to your collection and to see that collection grow.

Some collections, such as rare sports cards, can be worth a lot of money.

Other collections have no great dollar value.

But there is one thing that you can collect which is worth more than anything else:
good turns.

In the Scout Oath,
we say,
'To help other people at all times.'

That means that a Cub Scout is always on the lookout for ways to be helpful and kind to other people.

When you accumulate acts of good will toward others, you are the wisest collector of them all.
