

1 in 6 Americans struggles with hunger.

If there are 40 people in your neighborhood, eight of them don't know where their next meal will come from. There are food insecure families in every community – even in seemingly affluent neighborhoods. You just might not know it.

How can you help?

Our goal is to hold a collection in every county we serve. We need adult volunteers to make this event successful! Annually, the first weekend of November of each year, scouts throughout the state pass out Scouting for Food bags in their neighborhoods. The second weekend, they collect the filled bags and drop them off at a local food collection site. Volunteering at a food collection site can help tremendously.

Your gift of time will set the example for others that we care for the needy in our communities and with that, show the ultimate of scout spirit. Scouting for Food is held on various weekends around the state, with the flagship collection endeavor typically taking place the second Saturday of November annually.
